

Case Study

Odour Remediation & Ambient Scenting Hotel Smoking Floors - Midwestern United States

The Background

A five star hotel in the midwestern United States approached Prolitec for assistance in solving their odour problems.

The Challenge

The hotel was experiencing strong tobacco odours on their smoking floors due to a lack of good air circulation in the hallways. This is a common problem for hotels which rely mainly on individual room units. In addition, the top floor had a mouldy smell from the humidity caused by the doors to the rooftop.

The Solution

Prolitec installed appliances and diffused odour neutralisers to eliminate these malodours while providing a pleasant scent throughout the hallways and elevator shafts. An inviting aroma was also added to the lobby creating a warm and homey atmosphere. Prolitec provided a rapid, effective and discreet solution that reflected the reputation of the hotel.